Óscar Monroig gained his first degree in Marine Sciences at the Universidad de Cádiz and his PhD at the University of Valencia.

He is currently a Senior Tenured Scientist at the Instituto de Acuicultura Torre de la Sal, Spanish National Research Council (CSIC).

His research focuses on the molecular mechanisms underlying the biosynthesis of long-chain polyunsaturated fatty acids in aquatic organisms, with a particular emphasis on their nutritional implications for farmed species and their role in the trophic ecology of aquatic ecosystems.

- May 2023 – Present:
Senior Scientist (Investigador Científico CSIC),
